SEN. KENNEDY FORESEES NO VETO OF LABOR BILL PASSED BY SENATE 90-1

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said today he does not see how President Eisenhower could decline to approve the Senate-passed Labor regulation bill.

The bill, passed 90-1 by the Senate Saturday, went through that body without inclusion of several provisions the administration has insisted are needed for effective labor legislation.

Among these are provisions which would limit sharply organizational picketing, ban all secondary boycotts, and let state agencies handle labor cases in which the National Labor Relations Board refuses to take jurisdiction. There is no forum now for handling such cases.

Kennedy, author of the bill, resisted strong efforts in the nine days of Senate floor debate to write all three of these points into the bill. He contended that they either were unworkable or would harm legitimate union interests.

Kennedy said he was confident the measure would be recognized as a strong, effective measure to clean up many abuses in unions.

The Senate finally did accept a compromise section aimed at some organizational picketing, but in a much less drastic form than the administration asked.

The House has been holding hearings on similar legislation, but is not expected to act on it before June or July.

Traditionally, the House has been apt to write somewhat stronger labor legislation than the Senate. But this year, backers of the Kennedy bill in the House contend they have the votes to put it through in much the same shape as the Senate version.

Last year the House killed the Kennedy-Ives bill, which was quite similar to the present measure. But it did not get to act until the closing days of the session, and then only under procedure which ruled out any floor amendments.

The 90-1 Senate tally compared with an 88-1 passage vote for the Kennedy-Ives bill last year.

Godfrey, 55, flew his private plane from his farm in Virginia. He was genial and smiling as he stepped out of the twin-engine plane at Teterboro, N.J. airport. He was in shirt-sleeves, smoking a cigar.

Godfrey was philosophical about the impending operation.

"When you get to the so-called moment of truth as often as I have," he said, "you get kind of used to it. Don't you know, every time a pilot takes off, he's close to it."

Godfrey said "It's wonderful, just wonderful" that Sam Levenson and Robert Q. Lewis are taking over as his television and radio replacements. He said there was no basis for rumors that he was considering any shakeup of program personnel.

"The backside tilted and the boat went over on its side," Janet recalled.

Seven of the occupants were thrown into the water. The other five were trapped below deck.

Several shoreline residents witnessed the mishap. The Coast Guard was notified. Several unidentified men rowed to the scene in dinghies, braving gusts of up to 30 knots.

MONTREAL (AP)—Twenty-three ships, 15 of them from foreign ports, moved westward Sunday in the St. Lawrence Seaway, opened Saturday to world traffic. St. Lambert Dock, at the western entrance to the 185-mile deep-water channel to the Great Lakes, reported 23 westbound ships had passed that point so far. In addition, the St. Lambert Dock handled six eastbound ships headed for Montreal and other St. Lawrence River ports. At Troquois Lock, at the western end of the chain of canals and seven locks between here and Lake Ontario, seaway officials reported 35 downbound ships and 13 upbound vessels had moved through. Shipping was moving up and down smoothly and without a hitch, said officials. TOKYO (AP)—Liu Shao-chi, hatchet-faced theoretician of the Communist party, moved up today to the presidency of Red China. Peiping radio called him a "leader second only to Mao Tse-tung."

Chou En-Lai was re-named premier.

Mao relinquished the presidency to free himself for his more important duties as chairman of the Chinese Communist party. Choice of Liu, a 61-year-old Hunanese, strengthened his position as Mao's heir-apparent.

Peiping radio indicated, however, that Liu was not unopposed early this month when the party command chose him to be chairman—or president—of the government, which under Mao had been a largely ceremonial post. It said that he "had the support of a large segment of party members," suggesting the choice was not unanimous.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania Republican leaders and members of the GOP state congressional delegation will soon have some 12,000 temporary jobs to fill for two federal censuses.

George I. Bloom, GOP state chairman said Saturday that he recently conferred with U. S. Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) and Pennsylvania's Republican Congressmen on procedures for naming field assistants for a farm census this year and supervisors for a population and housing census in 1960.

The field assistants and supervisors will choose the census takers.

Recruiting enumerators for the farm survey is expected to begin next October.

Highlight of yesterday's Warren television debut over WICI, Erie, was the announcement of a new industry for the area. According to the broadcast, ground has already been broken for Allegheny Electronics, Inc., at Starbrick, west of Warren.

The new plant, to manufacture electronic components, will hire approximately 100 people, with the construction to be completed by the end of June. Norman Cunningham, president and general manager, states that the building will occupy 5000 square feet of floor space.

Credit was given efforts of the Warren Industrial Development Corporation for its part in securing the new industry.

The "Highway 12" TV feature, which pointed to this community, was sponsored by the United Refining Company and local industry, schools, recreation spots and other places of general interest. A TV photographer had visited the area for an entire week to capture Warren's story past, present and future.

New Polishers Wax Wonders on Floors

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

In the wake of the soaring use of hard-surfaced floorings throughout the house has come a flurry of ideas and products to keep them clean and shining.

Not long ago, the floor polisher was an appliance you saw being piloted through public buildings at night. Today, several companies make home-size versions of them to keep wood, resilient tile, and cork floors in fine condition without too great an effort by the homemaker.

The method of cleaning and waxing with a floor polisher is quite different from waxing a scrubbing brush while on hands and knees.

It's much easier, too. If your home boasts a goodly amount of exposed hard-surfaced flooring, such as appliance might be of real value to you.

SOME POLISHERS have two brushes; one new one has three. The cleaning and polishing may be accomplished in a single operation by what floor-servicing firms call the "dry clean" method, when a special wax is used with the polisher.

Fine steel wool pads in steel wool adapters on the brushes spread the cleaning and polishing wax and take up dirt and excess wax.

The wax dispenser on the three-brush polisher, for example, permits a careful control over the amount of wax on the floor, which is one key to successful cleaning.

The steel wool pads are reversed in the adapters after the floor is cleaned. They then serve to burnish the wax residue to a fine luster.

The wax is spread at low speed and burnished at high speed. Buffing pads can also be used for a particularly brilliant shine.

Manufacturers emphasize that Increasing popularity of handsome vinyl tile floors adds to demand for appliances to keep them shining. Three-brush polisher, above, is an adaptation of a commercial unit. It has two speeds for spreading cleaning wax and for burnishing to a high luster.

If several coats of wax have built up on a floor, these should be stripped before more is added. Stripping off the old wax can be done with products made for the purpose, or with certain household cleansers.

After wax is stripped use a polisher to apply two or three new coats, allowing good drying time between each coat, says one floor research expert.

Heat from the polisher helps to dry and harden the film of wax.

It is also advised that self-polishing waxes be applied with a wax applicator not a polisher. Use of a floor polisher for cleaning and waxing doesn't rule out damp mopping. Sticky spills and such can be mopped up, but the less cleaner and water used, the less wax will be removed. How long a thorough cleaning and waxing job will last depends on the traffic; a polisher can be used to patch the traffic lanes when wax is worn in those areas.

MANY APPLICATIONS

Pennsylvania State University reports it has received a record 12,412 applications for the fall semester, an Associated Press dispatch says. More than 4,000 of these will be new students, Dr. Eric A. Walker, school president, said in a weekend statement. He added that the freshman quota of 3,200 on the University Park campus was virtually filled. But there are still many openings at off-campus locations throughout the state, he said.

COMMITTEE CHANGE

The committee of St. Paul's Lutheran stewardship committee will meet at the church at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, instead of tomorrow evening, as was originally announced.

SPRING CLEANING URGED

The Warren Board of Health reminds that with warm weather approaching, the time is right to get rid of rubbish that has accumulated over the winter months. The Board will greatly appreciate the cooperation of tenants and home owners in helping keep Warren clean.

NEW PRESS SECRETARY

Richard R. Haratine, 38, of Erie, has been appointed Governor's Press Secretary according to an announcement made today by Governor Lawrence. Haratine is currently Director of Public Information for the Pennsylvania State Department of Commerce and former managing editor of The Erie Dispatch. He also formed his own public relations firm and later served as assistant to Mayor Arthur J. Gardner of Erie.

OLDER WORKER WEEK

May 3 through May 9 has been proclaimed by Governor Lawrence as "Employ the Older Worker Week" in Pennsylvania. In the proclamation, the governor said discrimination against employing older workers is contrary to the American principles of liberty and equality of opportunity.

ROTARY CLUB CITATIONS

Zelenople, Marienville and Meadville Rotary Clubs won citations for activities and accomplishments and the opening of a two-day convention of over 300 Rotary members from 43 western Pennsylvania communities. The convention was held in Sharon.

IN APPRECIATION

The Senior Girls Society would like to thank the owners of Penn Laurel Motel for the use of their facilities for a car wash on Saturday. They also thank the public for their help in making this a great success.

Lessons Learned By Civil Defense In Recent Flood

All Civil Defense organizations subject to flood in respective areas should be interested in six specific steps that will become standard operating procedure for the Warren County Civil Defense Unit as a result of lessons learned in the January floods this year.

The six points are contained in an exceptionally detailed report by Warren County Civil Defense Director, William Fuellhart to Western Area headquarters. Points cited in brief are: a manpower pool created under one civil defense service division to turn off gas and electric sources and remove appliances likely to be damaged; auxiliary police will be confined entirely to police duty.

Other points covered in the text include: all local directors will have a special emergency flood supply and manpower organization, with dry sand, sand bags, roster of boats available and specially qualified manpower; an educational program teaching public to stay tuned to local radios for special information and instruction; having of locally available dynamite supplies and roster of qualified dynamite handlers, system of dispatch points at the edge of all flooded areas under command of Rescue service personnel, properly staffed.

Fuellhart's report stated that mobilization of his forces was prompt and effective after Burgess William E. Rice declared a borough emergency at 2:30 hours January 21. Previously, one DUKW and a rescue truck had been placed on standby. A dynamite shortage was overcome and one ice jam dislodged by the explosive.

County Cancer Unit Appreciation of Help

Warren County Unit of American Cancer Society sends along "thanks" for all who co-operated successfully in the benefit Hot Stove game Saturday.

Mentioned are: Warren High school art classes who designed colorful posters under supervision of Fred Schultz, Hot Stove League committee, Bob Johnson, president; four team managers, Louis Flatt (Kinza), Harry Wooster (All Stars), John Salamon (East Side) and Sam Loomis (North Warren).

Thanks are also extended Salvation Army for use of the coffee urns, Bill Hill, Jr., and Johnny Evans at the concession stand; also Dick Meacham.

Proceeds realized from the game will go to further fight cancer. County crusade chairman Colonel Ayres and vice chairman Wayne Delchambre were on hand for the double header, and speaking for the local cancer unit, extend "thanks to everyone who helped make the game a success."

LETTERS OF REAL CREDIT

For a long, long time, prize athletes in school and college have been strutting about in thick sweaters with the school letter emblazoned thereon. Letter winners have been a kind of campus elite, generally looked up to by students and outsiders alike.

But at Asbury Park (N.J.) high school, and maybe some other spots here and there, it's different now.

The other night 81 Asbury Park students filed on stage to get varsity "A's" and not one of them was being rewarded for athletic excellence. These were scholarship awards.

To get their varsity letters, these youngsters had to maintain scholastic averages of 90 or better. Some of the seniors who had maintained high-level performance for nearly four years also got trophies.

This is so refreshing and sensible that it ought to recommend itself to schools and colleges all over the country.

In the strict sense it is a "device," but what does it matter if the net effect is to rivet attention on scholastic achievement and inspire students to strive for its rewards?

Favorable spring weather contributed to the success of numerous activities scheduled in and around Warren over the weekend—including the Hot Stove League benefit games at War Memorial Field and the Grotto Sportmen's Show at Beatty Cafeteria Saturday.

Our congratulations are extended to members of St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Mission, at Youngsville, on the occasion of the dedication of the handsome new edifice with appropriate ceremonies conducted by The Rev. William Crittenden, Bishop of the Diocese of Erie, Sunday evening. Widespread interest in the Mission was reflected by the large crowd in attendance which taxed the capacity of the church.

Good news for the Warren area is the announcement of a new industry, learned through the television program over WICU at Erie Sunday, which says that ground has already been broken for the Allegheny Electronics, Inc., plant at Starbrick. The new industry, to manufacture electric components, will employ approximately 100 people with the construction scheduled to be completed by the end of June. Incidentally, credit is given efforts of the Warren Industrial Development Corporation for its part in securing the enterprise.

WORLD TODAY

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
 Associated Press News Analyst

If the West holds steadfast and united at the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference, troublesome days may lie ahead for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. His two latest notes to the United States, coming fairly close together, hint that the fussy Khrushchev stirred up over Berlin and Germany could prove a boomerang for him.

There is a distinct possibility that last November, when Khrushchev suddenly announced his plan to end the occupation status of Berlin, the move was planned primarily as a diversion to cloak Red activities elsewhere. The announcement brought an immediate sense of crisis. A few weeks later, Khrushchev moderated his tone, saying no steps would be taken in Berlin for six months. The magic date would be May 27.

This changed the sense of crisis to a feeling of hope or wishful peaceful atmosphere. Khrushchev played heavily upon this hope. He pressed for a Summit meeting.

As the weeks rolled by, signs of division in Western ranks over the approach to the summit may have led Soviet Communists to believe that something significant might be won from the meeting.

This belief even may have developed into confidence that the wave of the world Communist movement might be stepped up. There were enticing opportunities, particularly in the Middle East.

For Khrushchev, however, the summit has been a gamble. If he fails to win any significant concession, he may also have to accept a setback. His Middle East experiments have aroused a widespread Arab anti-Communist campaign. He has had trouble with Tito of Yugoslavia, trouble with the satellites, trouble with China, trouble with deviations in the world Communist movement.

ply brakes to aggressive Communist actions which do not and cannot have direct Soviet military support.

In the long run, unless Germany can be neutralized, Communist expansion will be inhibited. It can move only indirectly, and even then there is danger. The Kremlin cannot give all the support it would like to expansion efforts in such areas as the Middle East, where homegrown Reds are exhibiting growing impotence.

Facing the United States at Geneva in two weeks will be these basic considerations:

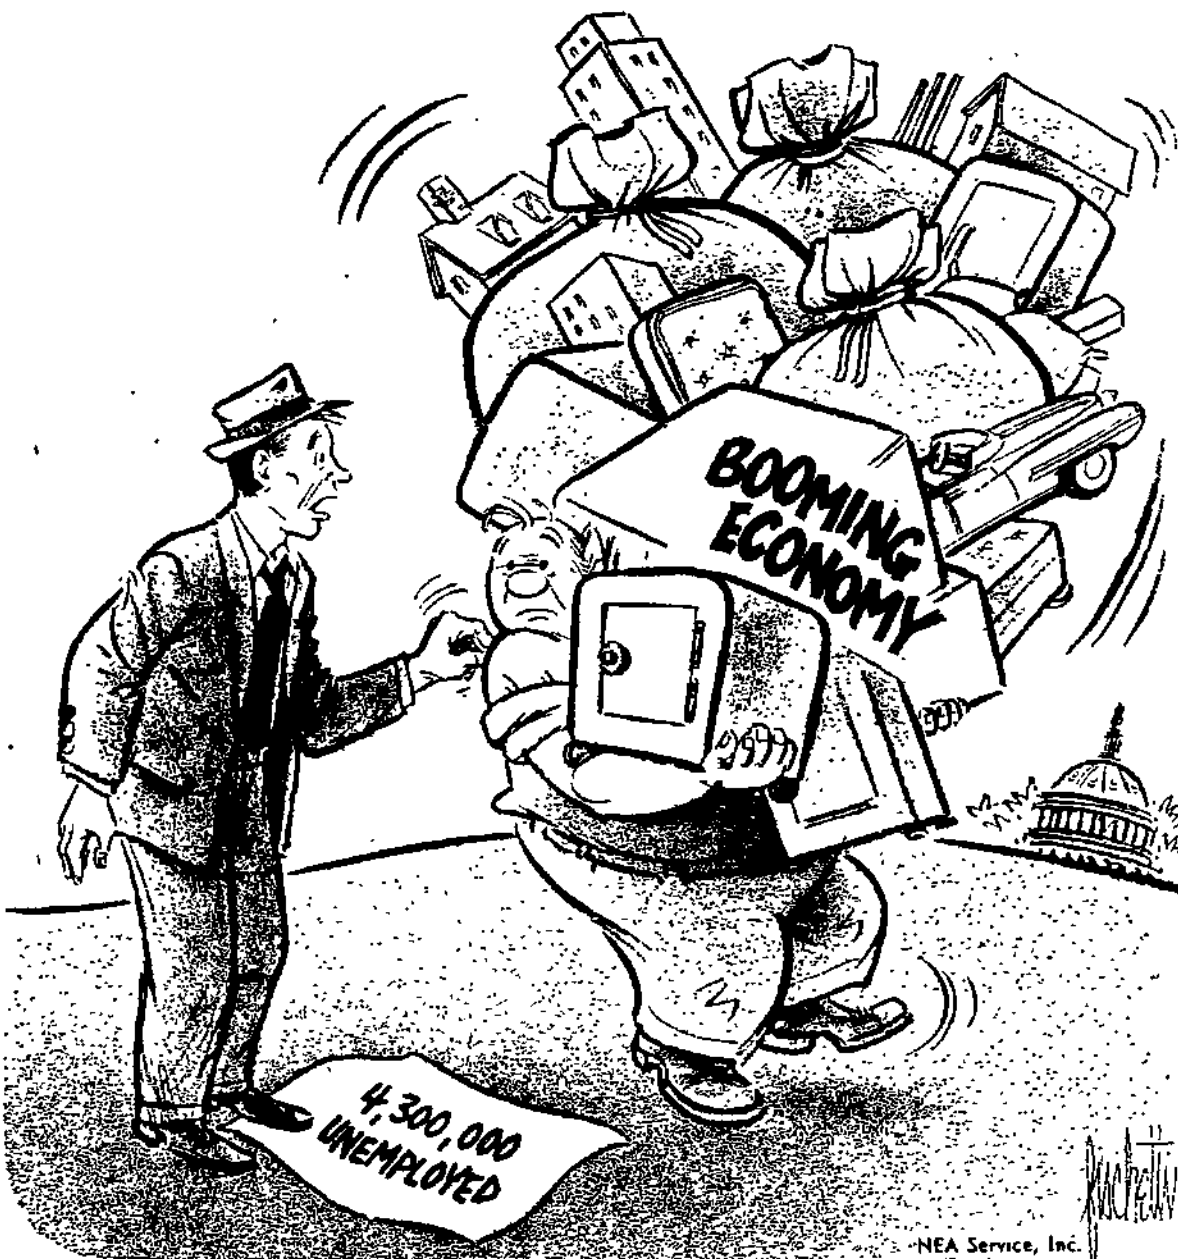

Over-all American policy is keyed to world peace. With this fundamental goal in mind, stability is promoted wherever possible.

Soviet policy aims at steady expansion of Communist domination. To make this possible, Communists promote instability wherever they can. Communists clearly believe they can dominate large world areas after a steady roll back of Western influence, at relatively small cost and without risking total war.

Significant concessions to Khrushchev's threats now would be a victory for him and perhaps a prelude to more threats and more demands.

Khrushchev himself has been having some setbacks. His Middle East experiments have aroused a widespread Arab anti-Communist campaign. He has had trouble with Tito of Yugoslavia, trouble with the satellites, trouble with China, trouble with deviations in the world Communist movement.

'Do You Need Some Help?'

Here and There

Back in 1899 one of the leading citizens in Warren who is still recognized for his philanthropies, was Levi Smith, oil refiner, and who before the turn of the century, was president of the Citizens' National Bank, located back in the building where the Community Consumer Discount Company does business now, at the corner of Hickory street and Pennsylvania avenue west. He lived with his wife, Amanda J., son Jay L., and two daughters, Eva J. and Laura M., at the commodious residence at 408 Market street, occupied for many years by the Warren State Police. Among other things Mr. Smith, a distinguished bearded gentleman, enjoyed penning lines of poetry, many of which found their way into columns of Warren newspapers. One of these was printed in the Evening Mirror, of the issue of April 24, 1939, entitled "Three Famished Neighbors" follows:

A backward spring by nature's law,
 Had much delayed the season's dawn;
 Till anxious hearts were filled with awe
 Who lived on hope—and that was raw—
 Which never fills an empty maw,

Or stops the craving hunger's gnaw.
 The last course served to them was woe,
 The woodchuck's hole was filled with snow,
 Without a sign for him to know
 If clover would, or could not grow;
 But instinct told him to "lay low!"
 No matter how the thing might go,
 The chipmunk's pessimistic eye
 Could see no beechnuts, far or high,
 And, gloomily, he said a sigh
 "I'm sure there's no more use to try;
 There'll be no more sweet by and by.
 The Woodchuck's done, and so am I."
 The polecat, too, felt most dejected,
 And sure that next he would be "skunked";

Lottie B. Carnahan Becomes Bride Of Perry H. Sweet in Grace Church

Grace Methodist church was the scene of a charming wedding on Saturday, April 24, at 2:00 p. m., when, before an altar banked with white carnations and stock, Lottie B. Carnahan, 906 Madison avenue, and Perry H. Sweet, 316 Poplar street, son of Mrs. Sarah Sweet, Boalsburg, were united in marriage by the Rev. Ralph Findley.

Traditional music was provided by Mona Jean Sweet of Boalsburg.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Clifton E. Carnahan, wore dusty rose lace with beige accessories and orchid corsage.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Neva Carnahan, was matron of honor wearing blue with white accessories and yellow rose corsage. Joyce Carnahan, a niece, was junior attendant in pink nylon with blue carnation colonial bouquet.

William Sweet, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man with Master Jeffrey Sweet, the bridegroom's young son, as junior attendant. Ushers were E. Dale Carnahan, the bride's nephew and Logan R. Hill of State College.

The bridegroom's mother chose navy blue lace with a red rose corsage.

A reception for 50 people followed in Fellowship Hall where the table was decorated with pastel flowers and white candles. A tiered cake was cut and served by Miss Mary Hertz and Mrs. Ruth Amacher. Miss Ruth Keep and Miss Carolyn Hendrickson poured with Eleanor and Norman Carnahan in charge of the guest book.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet and daughters, Mona Jean, Janice and Bonnie; Mrs. Sarah C. Sweet; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stricker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Farwell of Boalsburg; Logan R. Hill and Paul Anderson, State College; Mr. and Mrs. Earl MacDonald, Mrs. Grace Sweet, Mrs. Ruth Bender, Erie; Miss Lottie Wingard, Mrs. Lou Giffallen, Clanton.

Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Holt, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schuyler and family; Mr. and Mrs. Arden Pangborn and children, Akeley. The bride graduated from Hoff Business College and is employed at Thomas Flexible Coupling Company. Mr. Sweet is also a Hoff Business College graduate and is purchasing agent for Certified Electric Co.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Myrtle Beck Circle and Elise Ross Circles of Grace Methodist church; office staff of Thomas Flexible; Mrs. Neva Carnahan and daughters; Mrs. Mabel Adams and Mrs. Edie Johnson; and by Miss Frances Schimmelfennig. Following the wedding rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carnahan entertained the wedding party and other guests.

Following a wedding trip through southern Pennsylvania, the couple will reside at 316 Poplar street.

Warren School Of Music Gives Student Recital

Warren School of Music presented a large group of students in an excellent recital Saturday evening in the social parlors of the YWCA when Mrs. Ruth B. Fox, school faculty member, welcomed a large and enthusiastic audience of parents and friends, who listened attentively as each student presented his or her number.

The program opened with a group of beginners in solos and duets, who played exceptionally well and demonstrated real ability. A group of older students comprised the remainder of the program, whose playing showed much self confidence and a most positive approach to the piano.

District EUB Men Have Meeting Here

Warren-Jamestown District Evangelical United Brethren Men were entertained in Warren's Bethel church for their first quarterly session of the new year.

Principal item of business to come before the group was election of the following officers: president, John Mallory; Warren; vice president, Plumer Murren, Youngsville; secretary, Manley McCullough, Jamestown; treasurer, Currie Huntington, Jamestown.

The meeting opened with a song service under the direction of the host pastor, Rev. Gene Sackett, with Lester Dickey, of the Dewittville church, leading devotions; Robert E. Hawkins, of Jamestown Grace church, in charge of music.

Lewis Chippen, Youngsville, showed colored pictures of the General Conference held at Harrisburg, including a historical pageant which depicted the founding of the United Brethren Church by German immigrants under the leadership of Mr. Otterbein. It was pointed out this original denomination united with the Evangelical Church in 1946 to form the present Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Announcement was made of the 18th annual Men's Congress to be held at Fundley Lake in June; plans for the yearly program were discussed and recommendations made to the executive committee.

After Rev. Sackett had led the closing prayer, refreshments were served by Bethel EUB Men.

Warren Players' Performances of "The Desk Set" Round Out Season

The talent line-up for the May Players' Club production of the fun-filled comedy "The Desk Set" promises delightful performances on May 7 and 8 at 8:30 in the Woman's Club auditorium.

In the starring role (played by Shirley Booth on Broadway) is Lois Byham, whose past performances in "Bus Stop," "Peg O' My Heart" and "Ladies in Retirement" have proved her outstanding ability.

New to the local stage in supporting roles as office girls in the play are Nancy Glatner, Joan Rice and Beverly Williams. According to the directors, these three are destined for an enthusiastic response for their parts in the play.

Appearing in a delightful role, that of Miss Warriner, who mothers "Emmy", the thinking machine, is Virginia Harbert. Mrs. Harbert made her initial appearance in "Song of Bernadette" and returns in this lighter mood.

Assuming the male lead of Richard Sumner, methods engineer, is Karl Tamm, who made theatrical history as Captain Queeg of "The Caine Mutiny" and who also appears with the famous Coudersport "Passion Play" cast.

Other Players' veterans in "The Desk Set" are Bill Odell, who was in "Witness for the Prosecution," "Solid Gold Cadillac," "Caine Mutiny" as well as the Warren High School's Evening of Plays; and Paul McDannel, whose humorous bits in "Mr. Roberts" and "Stalag 17" are still remembered with pleasure.

Making a Warren debut is Ronald Kniss, a Metzger-Wright company employee, who has had previous dramatic experience at Clarion State Teachers' College. He makes his home here, with his wife and two children, and hopes one day to resume his plans to become a teacher.

Mail reservations are still open and members are reminded to enclose a self-addressed stamped return envelope when ordering seats. Miss Mildred Ochs is box office chairman; the Players' Club box number is 563.

It is anticipated a full dress rehearsal will be held Sunday afternoon and evening.

ANOTHER SPECIAL CHAUTAUQUA EVENT

Carola Goya and Malleo, internationally celebrated dancers, will present their unique program "A World of Dancing", at Chautauqua on July 10, as yet another of the special attractions scheduled by Chautauqua's program director, Ralph McCallister, for the opening weeks of the 86th season.

Previously announced for the opening of the Chautauqua season were Leonard Warren, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera, on July 6; The Kingston Trio, July 11.

Cleveland Players will open the Chautauqua repertory season July 8 with A. A. Milne's comedy-mystery, "The Perfect Alibi". The Opera Association, directed by Julius Radel of the New York City Center Opera, will open its season July 17 with Giammni's "The Taming of the Shrew"; Walter Hendl will conduct the opening concert of the Chautauqua Symphony Orchestra on July 18.

Gathered From The Party Line

Mrs. Richard Evans, Madison avenue, has returned from a visit with her son, Tom, and family, in Annapolis, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Aml Erickson and son, John, of Roy street, have returned from Lafayette, Ind., where John enrolled for the fall term at Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Logan, Jr., entertained a large circle of friends at dinner Saturday evening at Conewango Valley Country Club to meet Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Neill. Well known in the field of music, Mr. O'Neill has made several Chautauqua appearances and guests were pleased with the opportunity of hearing him sing during the evening.

In Titusville Sunday evening to attend the ninth annual banquet of the Crawford-Clarion-Venango Chapter, Independent Association of PLCB Employees, were Lyle N. Schuler, one of two state vice presidents in District 5, with Mrs. Schuler, 29 Buchanan street. Other officers of the state organization present were Frances Burgoon of Erie, also a vice president of the district; Bill Iorio of Sewickley, treasurer; Bob Brant of Titusville, secretary, each with his wife. The new superintendent of state stores in western Pennsylvania, William Wall, and his wife were present from Pittsburgh.

In town for a visit are former residents, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Kirkpatrick, now living in Fairmont, W. Va.

Mrs. Quay A. McCune, 510 Pennsylvania avenue, east, left yesterday for Colorado Springs, Colo., where she will visit her daughter, Helen, who is employed as a visiting nurse.

Beta Sigma Phi To Award Cup To April 30th Baby

For the second time, Epsilon Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, is enthusiastically looking forward to Founder's Day, April 30, when members will present a silver cup to the first baby girl born on that date at Warren General Hospital.

Beta Sigma Phi has become well known in the community for many of its civic accomplishments. The sorority contributes socially, spiritually and culturally to all people. Locally, the organization's main project is multiple sclerosis.

Through an International Endowment Fund, the group also contributes to Cancer Research, Girltown in Texas, Cystic Fibrosis and many other humanitarian projects.

Admission to membership is by invitation and ritual and the sorority is non-sectarian. Beta Sigma Phi has over 5500 chapters and 13,000 members throughout the world.

As Founder's Day approaches, the local chapter hopes to be of service to the community and to keep Beta Sigma Phi growing in Warren.

Officers-Directors Installed By Zonta

New officers recently elected to serve Warren Zonta Club in the fiscal year of May 1, 1959 to April 30, 1960 were installed at the regular dinner-meeting of the organization.

Miss Estelle Roswell, past president of the local club, inducted the following officers and directors:

President, Mrs. Helena Isenman; vice president, Miss Ursula Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Florence Monroe, all reelected for a second term; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Overturf, serving her first term. Additional directors were Miss Roswell, Mrs. Irene Shreck, and Mrs. Georgia Coyne.

Robert Anstadt, manager of Bell Telephone Co. arranged for the club to tour the new dial installation in Warren.

Mrs. Isenman, chairman of the March of Dimes conducted by Warren Zontians in January, reported a total of $8,299.03 was realized from this year's drive. Approximately half of this amount was raised by the Mothers' March on January 29th.

Mrs. Marguerite Thayer, District governor from Niagara Falls, N. Y., will visit the Warren club for the May dinner-meeting, when several new members will be welcomed.

PLCB Employees Making Progress On Withholding

Culminating a long series of negotiations between the Independent Association of PLCB Employees and officials of the Liquor Control Board, word has been received by John Baur of Shavertown, president of the Employees' Association, that beginning July 1, Blue Cross and Blue Shield dues paid by state store and central office workers will be on the basis of payroll withholding deductions. Participation will be on a voluntary basis.

Many delays have held up the process, long desired by store workers, although several other state departments already enjoy the benefit. As of this time, the entire cost will be paid by the workers. Negotiations will continue, however, to have the Commonwealth pay at least part of the hospitalization policy costs as a fringe benefit.

Sixteen of the states of the Union now pay part or all of hospitalization policy costs for employees. Pennsylvania gives no fringe benefits and is the only state which does not at the time provide any extra privileges for any employees, such as cumulative vacation and sick leave, added vacation leave for long service, unemployment insurance and sick leave, added vacation leave for long service, unemployment insurance, increased pay for longevity, overtime, incentive suggestion awards, paid maternity leave, and moving costs on transfers. All other states and the Federal government provide at least a part of these benefits.

Hospital Recreation Director on Program

James Hillman, director of recreation, Warren State Hospital, will be among the featured persons at the 12th annual Pennsylvania Recreation Conference to be held May 6, 7 and 8 at the Pennsylvania State University.

Mr. Hillman will serve as a Consultant in the session on "Practical Hospital-Community Relationships in Recreation." The annual conference will this year emphasize four problem areas with which communities throughout Pennsylvania are concerned. These broad topics include Community and Industrial Recreation, Parks, Hospital Recreation and Camping and Outdoor Education. Persons interested in attendance may contact the Penn State Conference Center for details.

New Shades Flatter Complexion

If you're in a make-up rut, spring is the time to pull yourself out. Some women go on year after year using the same make-up shades without realizing that skin tones, like hair color, change. The only way to discover what completely new make-up can do for you is to experiment. This girl (left) is darkening her brows with a new gray pencil. The idea is that gray creates a more natural, less startling look than black. This is a water-resistant eyebrow pencil. She uses (center) a new no-smear eye shadow which comes in lovely colors: a melting violet, green, blue and a sophisticated silver. It's as easy to use as a lipstick. She darkens her lashes (right) with a liquid roll-on mascara which comes off only with soap or cream. It will last through rain, tears or sea bathing, the makers say. It, too, comes in dashing colors.

BY ALICIA BART, NKA Beauty Editor

Next to good health and cleanliness, nothing will add more to beauty than the skillful use of cosmetics. Yet, in spite of the tremendous strides made by the cosmetic industry, many women remain in a rut when it comes to make-up.

To begin with, your skin tone changes through the years, and the shade of powder and lipstick that suited you best a few seasons ago may detract from your appearance now. At the very least, there is probably another shade that will do more to enhance the glow of your complexion.

Don't back away from the lovely new frosted and pastel lipsticks just because you've always used bright red. How can you know they won't be right for you if you've never tried them?

Eye make-up was once considered brash except for evening wear, chiefly because it was dark and heavy, and applied so that the eyelashes stood out like blackened matchsticks.

Today it is lovely, subtle, and when carefully applied, can make your eyes your greatest asset. Since your eyes are your dominant feature, it would be foolish not to do all you can to make them beautiful and sparkling. It's no longer necessary to forego eye shadow and mascara in the daytime. They should not be used with a heavy touch, but the many soft, lustrous shades can be worn anytime, day or evening.

If you fear that during working hours you might smear your eye shadow or mascara with an unconscious brush of the hand, loss your worry to the winds. For there is on the market a complete line of pencil eye shadow and mascara that the makers say will not smear or rub off unless tacky soap or cream, which is nice to know. It is claimed that this eye make-up will last through a plunge in the sea or a good cry at a sad movie. It's attractively packaged, too, in brushed gold, and comes in several flattering shades.

There's as much advantage in new cosmetic trends as there is in new clothes fashions. It's always fun to try something different.

Remember that since your skin and hair do not remain the same over the years, your make-up should also change. Get out of the rut and experiment. You'll enjoy it, and the result will be a pleaser!

TV REVIEW

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP) — "Meet Me in St. Louis" took the television audience on a thoroughly delightful sentimental journey to a turn-of-the-century family over CBS-TV Sunday night.

The two-hour special musical, which improved greatly on the movie version of the book by Sally Benson, was superbly played by a stellar cast under the excellent direction of George Schaefer.

Walter Pidgeon and Myrna Loy were perfect parents for a group of charming children who included Jane Powell, Jeanne Crain, Patty Duke and Ginger MacManus.

Ed Wynn was the foxy grandpa, and Tab Hunter the boy next door. All gave buoyant performances.

The songs were appropriately nostalgic works, and Herb Ross arranged some artful choreography. There was just about every known nostalgic cliché in "Meet Me in St. Louis." But it was so well done and had such warmth and good heart that it could have annoyed only a misanthrope.

Negotiations continue between Jack Paar and NBC-TV for renewal of his popular midnight show next season. Paar would like to do three shows a week and have two others conducted from Hollywood by someone else. The network wants Paar for all five.

The format for George Gobel's

new CBS-TV program, beginning next Oct. 4, will be basically similar to his early half-hour programs on NBC-TV—with several new ideas. His biweekly program will alternate with Jack Benny's Sundays.

Enthusiastic sponsor support for the "America Pauses" programs on CBS-TV means that they will be expanded into a series of specials next season. The next, "America Pauses for the Merry Month of May," now is scheduled for May 18.

Mr. and Mrs. James Simms, 423 Rankin street, a daughter April 26.

There was a dress like the one she wanted on a model there on the floor. She went into the store, stepped up boldly, and said: "That's the one I want."

The saleslady, pleased at a quick sale, asked: "What size?"

"I'm more than five and not yet six—and half past me," said the little girl proudly.

"Well, you dear thing," said the saleslady, giving a vague look of appreciation and goodwill as she stabbed at a stack of dresses that would fit the girl.

The child took the dress, held it up to herself, and said, "I like it."

She started to walk away. The saleslady looked around for the child's mother and murmured: "Whom shall I charge this to please?"

"Mommy," said the girl.

"Yes, dear, of course," said the saleslady. "Where is your mommy?" she looked around dutifully.

"Home."

"Home?"

"Yes."

The saleslady looked at her incredulously and said: "You don't mean to say that you came here without your mother, and without money you expect to . . ."

The child looked up at her in utter indignation.

"You're not trying to tell me you need money and mommy both!" she said.

the Sandpoint Naval Air Station was the first to reach the sinking craft.

Lt. Col. J. E. Morrison, a Seattle reservist on weekend duty, spotted Walter A. Johnson, owner of the Lois Ann, clutching the boat's bow.

A hook with a rescue sling was lowered to Johnson but he was too numb to slip the sling over his shoulders. He grasped the hook long enough to be pulled into the helicopter.

The small boats and Coast Guard craft saved Johnson's wife, 48, their son Roll, 15, Rodney Taylor, 2, and Janet.

Burgess William E. Rice pointed out Warren's comparatively low rate of crime and juvenile delinquency. Merle Kramer of Sylvania Electric Products and chairman of the Chamber of the Commerce flood control committee, outlined the great recreational facilities yet untrapped in the area with William Glinger, Jaycee president, talking about "what youth believes about Warren's future". Glinger noted that more young men were returning to Warren to build their lives and raise families, all keenly interested and interested in helping realize it.

LeRoy Schneek of WVAE, in his first television assignment, served as program narrator. Those watching were impressed with his outstanding performance and equally proud of the other local personalities who made excellent appearances.

gar Hoover, sent more than 30 agents into the area. Combining forces with sheriff's deputies and more than 60 highway patrolmen, they split into groups of two and three men to cover the area.

One group found John Reyer, 63, who owns a 40-acre truck farm about four miles north of here. Reyer said he was about 25 feet away when the raiders left the Pearl River County Courthouse, dumped Parker in a car and drove off in a westerly direction. Reyer, said two to five other cars left in different directions.

"Nobody didn't speak," Reyer recalled. "Nobody said nothing to me."

"I saw all the men wore masks. I realized I was in the wrong place. I went on. I didn't look back."

Several items of stained clothing were discovered about 20 miles from here but there was no indication they were connected with Parker. The FBI took possession of them for chemical analysis.

of the invasion force ranged from 36 to 60.

They landed at Playa Colorado with the aim of launching a Castro-type guerrilla war in the mountains against President Ernesto de la Guardia.

The lone guard in the village of Corregidor, Cpl. Ariano Molinar, organized a posse of villagers and captured three of the invaders.

One of the captives later told newsmen in Panama City that Arias had given him four thousand dollars to take to Havana to help finance the expedition.

Two of those captured were Cubans. The third was Panamanian.

The field commander of the landing force was Enrique Morales Bried, son of Panama's Chief Justice Ricardo Morales. He was one of those drowned in the landing attempt.

People in the invasion area said the invaders told them they came from Cuba with Fidel Castro's blessing.

Castro, in Montreal, denied any knowledge of the invasion and said his revolutionary forces had strict orders against having anything to do with such adventures.

Lewd Phone Calls End as Man Is Nabbed by Police

A 29-year-old married Jamestown man was nabbed by Borough Police over the weekend as he emerged from a public payphone booth after making another in a series of lewd and obscene calls to Warren women.

A trap was laid for the unknown culprit, Nofrio Piazza, of 1398 East Second street, Jamestown, a month ago.

Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Martha Lawson, Piazza pleaded guilty to a charge of immoral conduct and practices. He was released on $500 cash bail.

The calls started Halloween night last October. Piazza would find a telephone listing with a woman's name. Calling the number, he would then use lascivious remarks to the woman.

Tracing the origin of a call Friday evening, police nabbed the Jamestown man upon leaving the phone booth. He could give no reason for his actions.

Plan

came up with the eight million dollar figure.

The report, virtually ready for presentation to the governor, says that of the 5,200 public school buildings in the state, some 2,000 have been built or modernized since 1949 and 1,300 were built prior to 1900.

Sixty percent have been inspected for possible fire hazards and two out of three show the need for repairs to correct fire hazards the spokesman said.

The figures don't include the 1,400 parochial school buildings in the Commonwealth. They are subject to state inspection but are not eligible for state aid for improvements.

As a result of inspections completed as of April 15, the spokesman said, the Labor and Industry Department has issued 2,023 orders to correct fire hazards. Most of them are minor but three schools have been ordered closed entirely and the second floors of 19 schools have been shut off because of unsafe conditions.

A three-part program outlined in the tentative report calls for: Setting up a fund of about $800,000 to aid financially distressed school districts in correcting fire hazards. These districts would be limited to those so poor that they have a problem year after year of meeting payrolls.

Giving priority to districts with fire-hazardous schools for state aid for school construction. These districts would be placed at the head of a list of 665 projects now awaiting state aid for new school construction. This state aid averages about 50 per cent of the cost of construction.

Ordering school fire drills to be held twice a month instead of only once monthly and providing for more intensive instruction of teachers and other school personnel in fire safety.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson (R-McKean) already has sponsored legislation to set up a three-million-dollar fund to help school districts with fire hazard problems.

The measure makes no distinction as to whether the money should go to a wealthy or poor school district.

meeting or the East-West foreign ministers' conference in Geneva May 11 will be relayed through Macomber to Fulbright.

As principal Democratic spokesman on foreign affairs, Fulbright has made it clear he looks forward to dealing with Herter on an intimate basis fostered by their friendship while they were members of the House together.

While Dulles made many trips to Congress to explain his policies and acted to keep the Democrats as well as the Republicans informed of what was going on, most of his contacts tended to be on the formal side.

Fulbright and other Senate Democrats think Herter may move more slowly and have Herter pegged as more conservative than his predecessor. In the Democrats' view, that is likely to prove an asset.

Behind Herter's customary gracious urbanity, some of the Democrats think they have found the glint of steel. They don't believe he will be a soft touch in negotiations with the Soviets.

$250,000 FIRE
BRISTOL TOWNSHIP, Pa. (AP)—A fire that started in a corner of a huge shopping center building Sunday night, damaged eight stores and did an estimated $250,000 damage.

Fire doors confined the blaze to about one quarter of the one-story cinder block building in this Bucks County suburban community. The building has 130,000 feet of floor space.

needs all the money he asked for in his budget message," Taylor said. "No governor in my time, and I've been here for 83 years, ever intended to get all the money he asked for."

"The budget should be cut 100 million," Taylor said. "You don't buy a piano when you can't pay the rent and right now the state is having trouble making ends meet."

Taylor's demand coincided with a suggestion by a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee that Lawrence might have to eliminate all proposed new programs in his budget.

The committee member, who declined quotation by name, said that "in view of the tax situation, there will have to be a substantial reduction—possibly to the point where we would have to eliminate all new programs."

He said the six-mill intangible personal property tax had no chance of passage. The measure would apply to mortgages and out-of-state stocks and bonds and would bring an estimated 55 million dollars a biennium.

"This bill is a first cousin to a state income tax," Taylor charged. "That's one tax bill that I know every Republican is against."

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Harrisburg Patriot reported today Gov. Lawrence will seek a 13-million-dollar boost in gasoline taxes and motor license fees for the next biennium.

The additional funds would be to match federal subsidies of some $359,800,000 during the 1959-61 period. The total motor fund budget would be a record $60 million dollars, the newspaper said.

Key feature of the additional revenue would be a boost in the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon. It would bring in an estimated 62 million dollars.

Pittsburgh Man Sought In Fraud Surrenders

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sun-tanned and dapper after nearly 10 months in Rio de Janeiro, 25-year-old Mitchell Ostwind surrendered today to the U. S. attorney to face fraud and conspiracy indictments in connection with the collapsed "financial empire" of his youthful associate, Earl Balle.

Belle and Ostwind flew to Brazil with their wives last July just before a series of local and federal probes led to bankruptcy proceedings against several companies in which they were active. Their passports later were revoked by the U. S. government. Belle and Ostwind are Pittsburgh residents.

Ostwind's appearance this morning came without any advance announcement that he had returned from Brazil.

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

JOHN COCHRANE

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in York, Pa., for John Cochrane, aged about 80 years, former well known Warren resident, and veteran of the Spanish-American War.

Residing for some time at 107 North Circle Boulevard in York, Mr. Cochrane died earlier last week after a lingering illness.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret Giesbrecht Cochrane; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Buyer, of Harrisburg, and several grandchildren.

MRS. DAVID STROUP
Services will be held in Titusville at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday for Mrs. Cecelia Burket Stroup, 78 year old resident of Centerville RD 1, who died at the Bradford Hospital at 3:15 p. m. ## Driver Cited After Car Runs Red Light, Strikes Two Autos

After a fairly quiet two-week period, Borough Police spent a busy time Sunday, investigating three accidents in the borough. One mishap caused considerable damage and inflicted injuries to two people.

At 2:56 p. m. yesterday, a car driven by Merle Phillips, 55, of Youngstown, Ohio, crashed the traffic light at South street and Pennsylvania avenue. Coming out of north South with a green light, was Helen E. Peterson, 15 South Carver.

Peterson's car was struck by the Phillips machine, which in turn hit head-on with an auto stopped at the traffic light on Pennsylvania avenue. Driver of the stopped car was Raymond W. Billstone, 31, of RD 1 Clarendon.

The Ohio driver was arrested by Borough Police on a reckless driving charge.

Arlene Hornstrom, 27 Glenwood, a passenger in the Peterson car, suffered a lacerated scalp which required six stitches to close. Madeline Phillips, five grandchildren, rather than four, as announced in Wednesday's paper.

Joseph Warren Lodge 726, F. and A. M., paid its respects in a group at the funeral home at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, and presented the ritual of the order. IOOF, paid their respects in a group at the funeral home Friday evening, and also presented their ritual.

Burglar Visits Church During the Sermon

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—The Rev. J. C. Harris was preaching at the First Methodist Church Sunday when a loud noise and vibration was heard behind the choir loft.

Rev. Harris continued unfazed. The congregation, including Ottawa County Sheriff Ben Standley, soon forgot it.

After the sermon Deacon Clyde Barket said he had caught a burglar rifling purses of choir members. He tussled with the man, falling down two flights of stairs. The burglar escaped with about $350.

Bowling Alley in Butler County Damaged by Fire

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Fire destroyed a one-story bowling alley in nearby Meridian Twp. Sunday afternoon with damage estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000.

Firemen were handicapped by lack of water. It was obtained from a hydrant more than two miles from the scene and hauled in tank trucks.

More than 100 firemen from 10 volunteer companies fought the raging blaze. Only the walls of the concrete 50 x 125 foot building were left standing.

10,000 Illegitimate Babies in State Yearly

HARRISBURG (AP)—Public Assistance Department records show that each year there are 10,000 illegitimate children born in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting, department secretary, said Saturday that the figure was based on a recent survey conducted by her agency.

She said the study also showed that for each illegitimate child receiving state financial aid, there are five such children not on the public assistance rolls.

FLOODS IN TUNISIA
TUNIS (AP)—At least 16 Tunisians have been killed and 60 injured in floods in Tunisia following torrential weekend rains.

At least one person was killed and 20 injured when a passenger train plunged into a swollen river near Sfax, on the east coast. Reports indicated the bridge carrying the train across the river collapsed.

LITTLE SANDLOT PLAY OPEN — Color guard of Starlettes, Jaycee-sponsored twirling corps, open ceremonies marking the initial play of Warren Hot Stove League Saturday. Four HSL teams played a cancer benefit on War Memorial to begin season play. Second photo catches the founder of Hot Stove League, Charles Musante, as he throws out the first ball. And the batter swings (but misses) as the game begins on a perfect baseball day. Photos by Everett Stokes.

SO WHAT?—Eddie Thompson grimaces as he lands a left hook to Benny Kid Parli's body, but the Cuban middleweight shows no sign of being hurt. Thompson, home-grown and a 2-1 underdog, won a split 10-round decision.

North Warren, Local All Stars Win Cancer Benefit; Anderson, Massa Pitch Brilliant Games

By MARY HARLAND
For Warren County Unit
American Cancer Society

Sunny skies prevailed Saturday for official spring opener of Warren's Hot Stove League in a benefit for Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society.

Warren City Lines (North Warren) took the opening game,

7 to 3 from Certified Electric (East side). Second game saw another 7 to 3 score, Warren All Stars scoring over Kinzua Legion.

A large crowd greeted the teams on War Memorial Field. Hot Stove founder, Charles Musante, threw out the first ball. The league is celebrating its 10th anniversary.

Frank Filesi, local sportscaster, was at the mike for the games. Jaycee-sponsored twirling corps, Starlettes, presented its color guard, while Boy Scouts Jim Malec and Bill Brown raised the flag.

Behind the four-hit pitching of A. Anderson, North Warren started trouble for Certified Electric by opening the scoring with a two-run second inning with a pair of walks and a singleton by Wolfe. Certified batted back with two runs in third and fourth to take the lead.

With two out in fifth, A. Anderson put the game on ice with a three-run homer.

In the "night cap" on the twin bill, Steve Massa started for local All Stars and went the route with a brilliant three-hit pitching performance as Kinzua bowed, 7-3. Gail Flati began for Kinzua, but pulled up with a sore arm in first inning. R. Quiggle relieved Flati and twirled a three-hitter, lasting until top of seventh. Dave Reynolds then took over mound duties.

All Stars got off to a fast start with two runs in the first. Quiggle then proceeded to tame All Stars until fateful seventh. Kinzua picked up a fair of runs in third and a singleton in seventh. From there on the game was out of Kinzua's reach.

Comment was heard on Massa and Quiggle's form, and "much will be heard from these two talented pitchers before the season is over."

Prizes for boys selling most tickets will be awarded later in week when the ticket count is made. Prizes include a Stan Musial autographed baseball from Times-Mirror, bat from Youngsville Sport Shop, and a fielder's glove from Metzger-Wright. The autographed ball bearing the Cardinal slugger's signature is top award.

Success of the game may mean this type special event will headline the April cancer crusade annually it is learned.

According to a spokesman for Warren County Unit "ACS," good fellowship reigned throughout the afternoon. It was gratifying to see the members of the four-ball clubs pitch in to help strike out our common enemy, cancer, second on the nation's disease frontier."

Bristling Haney Benches Couple Of His Champs

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Manager Fred Haney, bristling after his Milwaukee Braves surrendered the National League lead to Los Angeles, benched shortstop Johnny Logan and left fielder Wes Covington for tonight's game against the Chicago Cubs.

Haney also said first baseman Joe Adcock may ride the bench if the Cubs pitch a right-hander. Left-hander Bob Smith was the Chicago probable.

"All I want is for the players to play up to their potential, and some of them haven't," said an angry Haney as the Braves flew back from Cincinnati where they were defeated 11-10 by the Redlegs Sunday.

The loss dropped the Braves into second place, a half game behind the Los Angeles Dodgers. They have a 7-4 record and are 36 percentage points ahead of the third-place San Francisco Giants.

Logan is hitting .171. Covington has a .229 average. Adcock—who shares first base with Frank Torre—has a .286 average.

Haney said veteran Andy Pafko probably would be in left tonight and Joe Morgan or Felix Mantilla would go to short, with rookie Chuck Cottier playing second.

Cincinnati's victory marked the first time since September 1956 that the Reds have beaten Milwaukee twice in as many days.

Penn State Hopes Jolted In Relay's Major Title Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—An unexpected slip and a tired half-mile shattered an ambitious dream of Penn State to win four of the eight major titles in the Penn Relays.

But Coach Chick Werner shrugged and said he wasn't too disappointed that his lads managed to carry off only two championships in the mammoth carnival that wound up Saturday.

Don Mahaffey, graduate of Warren High in 1955, was a member of the mile Relay team from Slippery Rock STC which competed in Penn Relays Carnival at Philadelphia the past weekend.

Slippery Rock's team, first sent to the Relays, placed second. The squad holds the school and track record.

Mahaffey is also a member of 880 relay team, also holder of the school and track record. Don was a member of the cross country team, earning a letter.

The former Dragon, member of track squad for three seasons, football for three and basketball for one year, is a freshman in track competition at Slippery Rock.

The Nittany Lions hadn't won a crown since 1951 before this year. But they showed up with an imposing aggregation of middle distance runners. They won the distance medley the first day and appeared to be off and running.

Then, with Ed Moran running anchor, Penn State captured the four-mile relay in 17:11.3 to open the Saturday program. That gave the team a perfect 2-for-2 mark.

A little over an hour later, the Nittany Lions toed the mark in the two-mile relay, ready to make it three victories. Dick Engelbrink, running anchor, couldn't hold a five-yard lead and Michigan won it in 7:41 on Tony Seth's 1:32.5 anchor.

Then came the sprint medley relay. Penn State ruled the heavy favorite in this, too. But on the first turn, Dick Hambright, running the open leg, tripped and fell.

"I don't know how I tumbled," he said. "No one was near me."

Penn won it in 3:28, which is about four seconds slower than Penn State would clock at its worst.

Only twice in the 65-year history of the Penn Relays have teams won four events. It happened in 1939 (Pitt) and 1945 (Michigan).

Abilene Christian was the other team to score a double this year. Bill Woodhouse and Co. took the quarter-mile in 40.9 and the half-mile in 1:24.5. Both were meet records.

Mike Souchak Rolls For Golf Title in Texas Invitation Play

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Hefty Mike Souchak was probably the happiest guy in golf today, and he had about $22,000 to justify his delight.

Leading the delegation on to the Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth, Tex., the 30-year-old pride of Durham, N. C., by way of Grossinger, N. Y., was the new king of the annual Tournament of Champions. The victory brought him a $10,000 purse—the biggest of his career—and he had about 12 grand more coming besides.

Not the least bit distressed, and richer by $5,000 himself, was sportsman Art Wall Jr., who made a gallant charge at the pace-setting Souchak and missed by only two strokes.

A horrendous experience on the 14th green at the Desert Inn Country Club Sunday cost slender Arthur any chance of winning. He took four putts to get the ball into the cup.

Wall was one stroke back of Souchak when it happened. He took a double bogey six and that was too much to overcome.

Mike had 77 for a 72-hole total of 281, Wall a 74 for 283.

Gene Littler of San Diego, Calif., finished with 71 for 285 and $3,000 prize money.

Grayson's Scoreboard

'Espionage in the Barns' Is Caribbean Conspiracy

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Jack Amiel breeds and races thoroughbreds on a modest scale, but his little string lends itself to big stories.

The latest could well be entitled, "Espionage in the Barns," for Amiel suspects that he was the victim of a Caribbean conspiracy when Manassa Mauler was claimed by Emil Dolce for $12,500 at Jamaica last Nov. 19.

Manassa Mauler, as you no doubt have heard, turned in a memorable upset winning the Wood Memorial and $55,915.

"All I know is that the groom who handled Manassa Mauler for me now has the same job in the other stable," says Amiel. "He is a Puerto Rican, and Francesco Martin, who trains for Dolce, is a Cuban."

"DEAN ALFANGE, WITH WHOM I own other horses, visited the stable one morning and offered me $10,000 for a half interest in Manassa Mauler. I turned the offer down, but the groom obviously was impressed. If a half interest in Manassa Mauler was worth $10,000, why not claim all of him for $12,500, which is precisely what Martin had Dolce do."

Francisco Fernandez, the groom in question, proudly led Manassa Mauler out of the winner's circle after he had paid a record $129.50 in the Wood.

Rich and dedicated racing people have tried for years to win the Kentucky Derby without success. Amiel, the onetime Harlem newsboy, purchased a Count Fleet yearling at the Saratoga Sales of 1949 for $3,700. He named the colt Count Turf after his New York restaurants, and two years later saw him win the Run for the Roses and $98,000.

MAKING THE STORY EXTRAORDINARY was the fact that the trainer, Sol Rutchick, thought so little of Count Turf that he didn't bother to make the trip to Churchill Downs. He sent Slim Sully, an aide, to saddle the steed.

Count Turf, which won close to $200,000 turned out to be a fine young sire. Three years ago, when a particularly good looking colt was foaled at James Drymond's Strodes Creek Farm, hard by Paris, Ky., Amiel named him Manassa Mauler after Jack Dempsey, the old heavyweight champion who is his partner in the Broadway eatery.

Manassa Mauler had sore shins, won three races out of 12 and exactly $8,965 going into the Wood Memorial. Amiel had run him in a $7,500 claiming race before he was taken for $12,500, couldn't imagine anyone putting a halter on a maiden two-year-old at that price after six starts.

"BUT I KNEW THIS was a good one and there was the sentimental attachment because of Dempsey," he says. "And now Manassa Mauler is denied the chance to establish a record by being the fourth of a direct line to win in Louisville."

Count Fleet, the grandsire, prevailed in 1943 and the great grandsire, Reigh Count, in 1928. Dolce did not nominate Manassa Mauler for the Derby. Indeed, prior to the race, everybody outside of those attached to the two stables wondered how he mustered the courage to put up $1,350 to get him in the Wood Memorial.

Ineligible for the Derby, Manassa Mauler can be made a supplementary entry to the Preakness and Belmont Stakes. We shall have to wait until then for the next important chapter in the Caribbean conspiracy, the best seller called, "Espionage in the Barns."

Science Fair Plans Progressing Nicely

Exhibits ranging from hi-fi sets to displays showing the regeneration of the hydra will be seen at the Science Fair on May 3 and 9 in Beaty Cafeteria. According to the following article prepared by the high school news-writing class, students from both Beaty Junior High and Warren High School are eligible to participate in the Science Fair:

The exhibits belong to junior high students and those belonging to senior high students will be judged separately. The high school exhibits will be subdivided into physical, biological, and mathematical groups. The junior high projects will be subdivided only into mathematical and scientific displays.

According to present calculations, approximately 60 projects will be displayed from both schools. Exhibits will be judged according to creative ability, scientific thought, thoroughness, skill, clarity and dramatic value.

The public is invited to attend this Science Fair on May 8 and 9 and view the exhibits these young people from Beaty and Warren High School have made. The time on Friday night is 8.00, and it is open free to the public.

"Be a Sipper Not a Guzzler"

SEATTLE, Wash. — Gulp your drinks? Get no lift when drinkers all about you are sipping theirs and feeling a pleasant glow? Watch out! Dr. Wayne M. Wellman says you're probably on the way to becoming a chronic alcoholic.

Dr. Wellman is consulting sociologist and associate director of the Research Society for Alcoholism. He reported on 738 cases studies of former alcoholics.

Six out of 10 drank faster than their friends on social occasions, drank more and got drunker on the same amount of liquor, Dr. Wellman said.

I get around quite a bit and from what I see it doesn't make much difference whether the drink stuff is sipped or guzzled, its effects are just the same—it still makes these humans stagger and fall down, and do things it would seem to me that humans should not do. Course, I'm only a dog, but that's the way it seems to me. RAGS

Dedication of Youngsville Church Is Largely Attended

Dedicatory services for St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal Church at Youngsville yesterday found the lovely new structure filled to capacity as the Rev. R. Bruce Ryan, vicar, greeted a host of friends and well wishers.

The dedication was honored by a visitation by the Rt. Rev. William Crittenden, D. D., Bishop of Erie, who conducted the evening service of prayer and confirmation.

The senior and junior choirs of Trinity Memorial Church, Warren, directed by Richard Sides, helped beautify the impressive ceremony, with several Episcopal clergymen assisting in the service. These included: The Rev. Gregory Rowley, former Youngsville vicar, now serving at Osceola Mills; the Rev. Herbert Van Dort, Erie, Director of Religious Education; the Rev. Robert C. Scott, former rector at Kane, now serving at Chestnut Hill Conference Center.

The Rev. Ralph Parkhill, Watford and the Rev. Robert Orvis, Trinity Memorial Church, Erie, were also in attendance with many guests from Lawrence Park, Erie, Warren and Youngsville.

Although deemed an impossibility to mention personally all who helped the Youngsville Mission achieve its present status, special appreciations were extended for spiritual and physical contributions of many members of Trinity Memorial Church congregation including the Rockwell Bible Class and Miss Anna Rockwell. Mention was also made of Trinity Memorial Church School which set aside a portion of this year's Lenten mite box offering for St. Francis church.

The vicar also commented that "the far sighted missionary vision of the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, rector of the Warren Episcopal church, went beyond mere words" and credited Mr. Rutledge "for the fast growth of the present St. Francis of Assisi". He also extended thanks to the local "sister church" for its many offers of support and assistance.

The reception proved a delightful affair with Russell Crippen showing pictures of the parish history as well as the church building from groundbreaking to dedication. Dainty sandwiches, cookies, tea and coffee were served by members of St. Francis of Assisi Guild.

Legislation Will Protect Children Working in Farms

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation to protect the rights of children and teen-agers working on large commercial farms is being pushed by the State Department of Labor and Industry.

A bill now before the Legislature would regulate the hours the youngsters would be allowed to work on commercial farms, but exclude work on family farms and farms with less than eight employees.

It also would insure protection against work near dangerous machinery, particularly tractors.

William L. Batt Jr., secretary of labor and industry, said in a weekend statement:

"Children of eight are now often pressed into service on Pennsylvania farms, especially during the peak of the harvest season. Some of them are children of migrant workers brought into the state to harvest large vegetable and fruit crops."

THE RAINS CAME

Yesterday's rains served to temporarily end menace of wood fires in the area, after warnings from the U. S. Forest Service and the State Department of Forests and Waters when rain's added to the danger following one of the driest Aprils recorded here in many years. The populace had been advised against starting outdoors fires which could have spread to serious proportions and many grass fires had kept county fire departments busy all last week. Saturday found a brush fire at Warr-Penn near Clarendon with Warren, Youngsville, Sugar Grove, Garland and Lander fire departments also on the job answering calls. Lawns and gardens will also respond nicely to the steady downpour.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Lightning accompanying a severe rainstorm Saturday night killed three cows in a herd of 27 owned by L. W. Fry of RD 3, Titusville. The cows were in a row of 14 animals stanchioned in the stable, the remaining 11 and others in the barn being uninjured. Fry said he was aroused about 8 p. m. by noises from the surviving cows. He rushed to the barn and found the three dead cows and the others in wild confusion. There was no visible damage to the barn. It was believed the cows that were killed were drinking from water bowls which carried the electric bolt felling them. No other damage was reported from the storm in the Titusville area.

"MEDICINE WHEEL"

The Indian medicine wheel "Sun Ti Po" in Wyoming, is said to have been laid down by the aborigines and used as some form of worship by the early tribes. The wheel has 28 distinct spokes and measures approximately 78 feet in diameter.

Q—What amendment to the Constitution gives Congress the power to collect taxes on income? A—The 16th.

Q—What was the nationality of Mata Hari, famous spy of World War I? A—Although an agent for the German government, the spy was Dutch-born.

Q—What is the difference between doves and pigeons? A—None, really, though we use the former term more often for the smaller, gentler members of the family—the symbolic "dove of peace."

Q—What is an interesting fact concerning the two satellites of the planet Mars? A—While these tiny satellites were not discovered until 1877, they were described with uncanny accuracy by Jonathan Swift in Gulliver's Travels, published in 1726.

ANN CARTER'S PERSONAL SUCCESS STORY

She's Now Starring as Mrs. Newton in Classroom

BY NEA SERVICE

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M.—(NEA)—Success story; Hollywood version: Attractive girl overcomes handicap of infantile paralysis and becomes movie star.

Ann Carter was all of this, but went a couple of steps further. She gave up a film career, married a serviceman and now teaches high school English.

Ann's movie career began when she was four years old. As she tells it, "My mother and I were on our way home from downtown Los Angeles when a woman told mother she should bring me to 20th Century-Fox to try out for a part in 'The Last of the Duanees,' a western starring George Montgomery."

Ann got the part—one line which she recited while seated on Montgomery's lap.

Her signal to recite was a pinch from the actor.

After that first toddling venture into acting jobs came fast for young Miss Carter.

She appeared in films with names like Bing Crosby, Walter Huston, Kathryn Hepburn and Farley Granger.

In addition to movies, Ann was a teen-age radio star in no less than 40 Lux Radio Theater presentations.

Forsaking a movie career, the former Ann Carter is now billed as Mrs. Newton at an Albuquerque high school.

At 14, Ann was stricken with her 18th birthday. She remained in a cast for months and in braces until N.Y., and attended her first 12 years of school in Glendale, Calif.

After her recovery from polio she was determined to complete her education, and enrolled in Occidental College, Los Angeles. After receiving her bachelor's degree, she took graduate work in speech at the college.

Her agent tried to persuade her to accept movie roles again, but she turned them down.

"The life of a star is not for me," she says.

Ann recalls an early job she had as radio disk jockey.

"I remember one week the studio called me in and said they were sending over another girl to work with me. They wanted me to show the girl the ropes in speaking, as she was ready to start work in pictures."

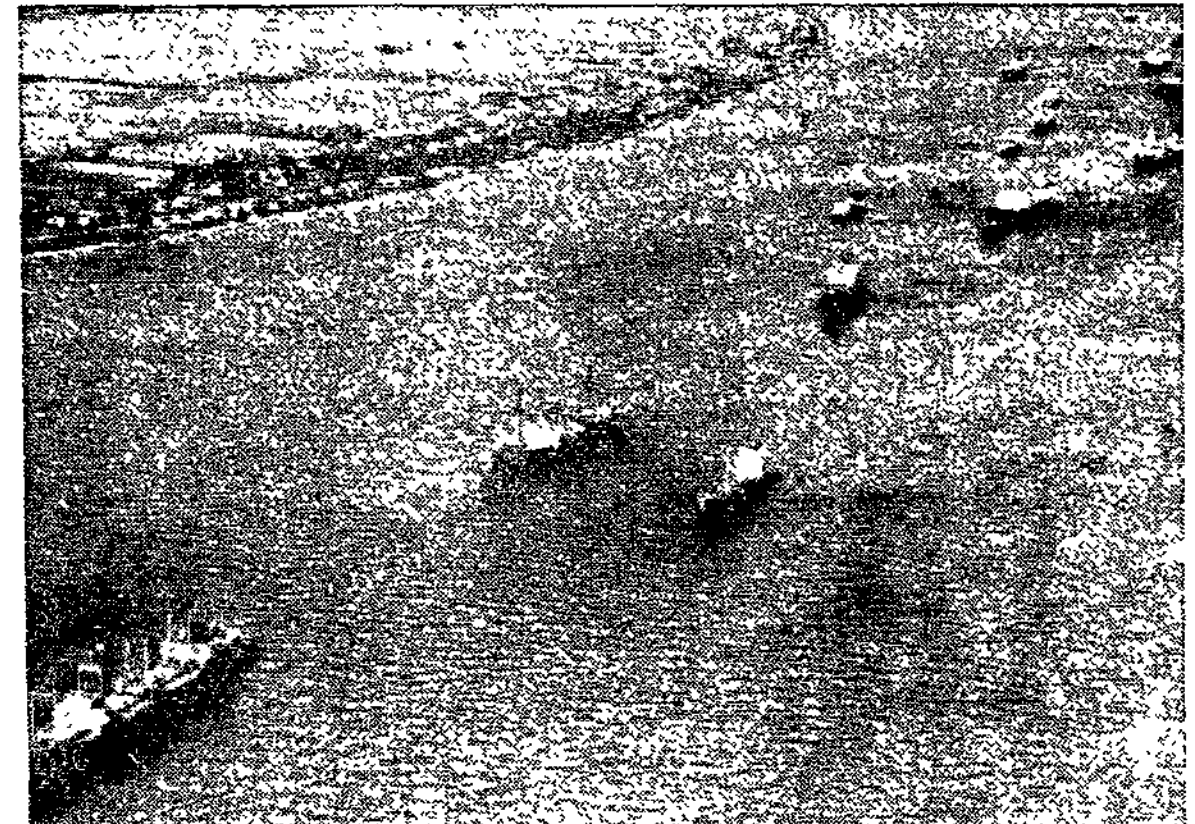

"We had a lot of fun together those Saturday mornings, spinning records and talking," she recalls.

The new girl she helped start in show business was Debbie Reynolds.

In May, 1927, Ann married Stephen Newton in Las Vegas. Two days later he was inducted into the Army.

Mr. Newton is stationed near Albuquerque, and Ann now teaches in Sandia High School nearby.

After 17 movies, more than 40 top radio shows and a decade in show business, Ann Carter is happy to be Mrs. Stephen Newton, English teacher.

NAMED HONDURAS

Columbus gave Honduras its name. When he sailed along the Caribbean coast of Central America on his last voyage, he called the land Honduras (Depths) because of the deep water he found offshore.

In some section of the country, a hostess asks close friends to be in the "house party" when she entertains a large number of persons at tea. They arrive and help look after the guests and leave after the others.

The first homestead claim in the U.S. was that of David Freeman in Nebraska. (The land is now a national monument.) The Nebraska Homestead Act of 1862 made it possible for any citizen to get a quarter section of 160 acres by living and working on it for five years. The pioneers had to learn to make sod houses for their first homes in the treeless land and to collect buffalo chips to be used for fuel.
